PARISH PRESS

Dear Parishioners of All Saints Catholic Parish,

In November, 2018, members of the Parish Council, Education Commission and Finance Council met to initiate a collaborative effort to analyze the operations of our Parish School and plan for both immediate and future needs. All three parish groups have a significant role in supporting our school, and are ready to work towards finding potential courses of action to take our school into the future.

As a result of this joint meeting, four essential key areas were identified - Marketing/Enrollment, Fundraising, Technology and Building. It was decided to establish four subcommittees and members of the Councils/Commission have split off into these four work groups. Teachers and other school staff will also be involved in the subcommittees so we can draw from their knowledge of our school and experience with the education of students.

I have asked our new principal, Jana Dahms, to serve as the overall chairperson of these subcommittees. Beth Nighbor, parish council member, will serve as a facilitator, assisting Jana with organization and communication between the subcommittees and other tasks as needed.

In the months ahead, each subcommittee will be working on the issues relating to their area. There are some immediate needs that have been identified and need to be addressed for this school year, such as updates in technology. Others will be working on future enrollment or creative fundraising ideas. Other subcommittees will be studying more long range decisions.

I am encouraged by this combined effort and the willingness of these parishioners to work together. Our parish is really blessed to have members with wide range of talents and skills. As these subcommittees move forward, it's possible you may be contacted to share your particular knowledge or skill in one of these areas. If so, I hope you will be able to help. Please pray that these efforts will result in constructive decisions and actions to lead our parish school into the future as we continue to Build Saints, Scholars and Children of God.

All Saints Parish is blessed with the opportunity and ability to provide a Catholic education in the Berlin community. Thank you for all you do to make that happen.

Yours in Christ,

~Father David Greenfield

NATIONAL CATHOLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

Catholic Schools Week will be celebrated at our school
January 26th through February 1st, 2019.

To kick off this special week, the ASCS teachers and staff are sponsoring a RETRO Family Fun Day on Sunday, January 27 right after the 10:00 Mass in the Social Hall. Join us for some old-school fun playing old-school board and card games. Raffle baskets, refreshments, and a competitive UNO tournament will be part of the fun! Don't miss out!

Come check out our school on Tuesday night, Jan. 29 from 5—7 PM for an Open House as we put a "Spotlight on Learning"
Our school will also be holding a raffle for a beautiful queen-sized quilt made and donated by Darlene Sierakowski. Tickets for the quilt will be available for sale after Mass the weekends of Jan. 19/20 and 26/27, and also at the parish office and the school office during the week. The drawing will take place during the school's Open House on Tuesday, January 29. Please support our school and get your tickets for a chance to win this beautiful quilt.
